An Eye-Tracking Study of Adult Temperament Differences in College Students

KEY INFORMATION ABOUT THE RESEARCH STUDY

Voluntary Consent: The authors have sought to bring you to our attention for research only. We do not intend to perform a clinical study or conduct laboratory research on you, and we do not intend to collect or use your data for any purpose other than to conduct research. You may choose not to take part in the study, and you may choose to stop taking part at any time. There will be no penalty in any way if you decide not to be in the study or to stop taking part at any time. If you choose to stop taking part in the study, the information you have already provided will be used in our research, unless you say otherwise.

Alternative to Participatory Participatory is voluntary, and the only alternative is to not participate.

Handy Abstract: The purpose of this research is to examine how long-term commitment impacts other facets of our personality, including taking on emotion regulation. We are attempting to determine if one factor can serve as a proxy, instead of measuring multiple and differently between those factors only. Additionally, this research aims to determine if other related issues between these factors can be examined using a proxy factor analysis.

Anti-bias and Anti-racism: Teachers and students will be asked to discuss and explore the issues raised by the text, and to share their own experiences and perspectives. The text is intended to be a starting point for discussion and reflection, and to encourage students to think critically about the issues raised. The text is also intended to be a resource for teachers and students to use in their own classrooms and communities.
